

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Oct 30, 2024

CN Unveils New User Interface with Version 6 Launch

Indianapolis, IND - CourseNetworking LLC (CN) has announced the successful launch of its new user interface, Version 6, marking the platform's most significant interface update since 2019. The release, which went live on October 30, 2024, aims to provide users with a more modern and intuitive experience.

The Version 6 project, initiated in Spring 2024, represents CN's commitment to enhancing user experience while maintaining the platform's comprehensive functionality. The CN team conducted extensive design experiments, user testing, and software testing to ensure the quality and optimal user experience of the new version.

Dr. Alice Zhao, the lead of CN R&D, stated, "Our goal with Version 6 was to modernize CN's look and feel without disrupting the user experience that our community has come to appreciate. The positive feedback we've received indicates that we've achieved this goal."

Key Highlights of Version 6

- Modern Design: A fresh, contemporary look that enhances visual appeal
- Improved Usability: Streamlined navigation and intuitive interface elements
- Consistent User Experience: Same functionality with an updated aesthetic

Post-release User Feedback

Initial user response to Version 6 has been primarily positive. In a post-release survey:

- 55.9% of users reported liking the new version, compared to less than 10% preferred the older version
- Nearly 80% of respondents indicated that the new interface has either improved ease of use or had no negative impact on usability

One long-time user shared his/her enthusiasm: " I have been on CourseNetworking for a long time now and I always come back... I wanted to tell the designers that I find their work great and that I don't see other platforms as user-friendly! I find it well designed: ergonomic, user-friendly, beautiful... it's a pleasure to come and learn here!"

Jue Wang, the Associate Director of CN Business added, "We're thrilled with the positive reception of Version 6. This update reflects our ongoing commitment to providing an exceptional learning environment for our global community of educators and students." CN continues to welcome user feedback and will use these insights to guide future enhancements to the platform.

For more information about CN Version 6, please contact info@coursenetworking.com.